

Fellowship Committee

The Fellowship Committee reviews Fellowship applications from currently enrolled graduate students with a view to making recommendations for Fellowship awards for the next academic year.

Shortly after the Fellowship application deadline (normally March 1) the Graduate Office notifies the committee members that applications are available for review. The committee has until April 15 to review the applications, after which time the committee convenes to make its recommendations. This usually requires one or two meetings.

Prepared August 3, 2005