University of Illinois
Mathematics Graduate Open House 2016

Thursday, March 31
Visitors who arrive during the day Thursday are welcome to attend the seminars and colloquium, and refreshments 3:30-4:00 in the Common Room, 321 Altgeld.

6:30-8:30pm Pizza and informal conversation with Mathematics PhD students

Friday, April 1
9:00am-5:00pm A full day of activities, including:

- Tour of the Mathematics Department buildings and renowned Mathematics Library.
- Research faculty meet and greet.
- Graduate classes.
- Research seminars.
- Individual meetings with faculty members.
- Graduate student panel discussion on Stages in the PhD Program.
- Graduate student colloquium – a talk by one of our advanced PhD students.
- Information about teaching assistantships and teaching development opportunities.
- Learn about opportunities in our department, such as PI4, internships, GEAR, Illinois Geometry Lab, AWM.

6:00-9:00pm Dinner for visitors and faculty at the home of Prof. Richard Laugesen, Director of Graduate Studies.

Saturday, April 2
You are welcome to stay for the Midwest Women in Mathematics Symposium.
If you plan to attend, please submit the registration form, so that the organizers will know how many people to expect.